We completed our session satisfactorily and began the competition period. So, we've already issued the email about round 1, and the deadline for submissions is today midnight, and it ends tomorrow at 12 a.m., as we previously stated.

So, first and foremost, the UI Bootcamp Day 2 Recording link is provided below.

(Make sure you are not eligible to use it in other places if we find you have used the designs elsewhere. Then we'll file a copyright claim and perhaps receive some legal notifications. ©)

As promised, we are providing some additional User interface kits created by professional designers, therefore there are some links you may use to improve your User interface abilities.
